

EX.020.202 – RECONCILING CASH ADVANCES

Purpose	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To identify the purpose of reconciling cash advances. • To identify how employees apply a cash advance to an expense report. • To identify how an employee can return a cash advance that was not used. • To identify which process updates expense tables to indicate that cash advances are reconciled against corresponding expense reports. • To reconcile a cash advance.
Description	The Advance Reconciliation process should be run to update expense tables to indicate that cash advances are reconciled against corresponding expense reports. By reconciling cash advances, the institution should be correctly reimbursing an employee for the right amount. When an employee uses a cash advance for business purposes and submits an expense report, the advance offsets some or all the expenses the employee submits on the expense report. If cash advances are not reconciled, the institution may incorrectly reimburse more than the expense that the employee incurred. When employees prepare expense reports, they designate the associated Cash Advance ID from a link on the Expense Report Entry page. The Apply Cash Advance(s) link opens a page where they select one or more cash advance IDs to apply the entire amount or a portion of a cash advance to their expense reports. The selected cash advance items become part of the expense report calculations that determine how much to reimburse the employees. To reconcile the cash advance to an expense report, the expense report must be already approved and paid (if applicable). Expenses tracks the remaining balance due to the organization and identifies on the Reconcile Cash Advance Report page the Expense Report IDs that employees applied the cash advance amounts to. If an employee received a cash advance but did not take the planned business trip or did not use the entire portion of the cash advance, the employee can write a personal check to the institution to offset the balance due to the organization. 	Administrators enter payments received from employees on the Reconcile Cash Advance Report page. To reconcile a cash advance, the cash advance must have a status of 'Paid,' and the total due to the company is greater than $0. When reconciling a cash advance, Expenses changes the status to Reconciled.
